Words from the President and CEO
Dear Members,

2005 was a milestone year for WTTW – our 50th year on the air. We knew we had to commemorate our birthday in exactly the right way. After countless brainstorming sessions, we reached a clear consensus that our celebration had to be a “thank you” gift to the city we love. It had to reflect the beauty and diversity of Chicago, showcase local talent, be accessible to the public, and express gratitude to our viewers, members, donors, and staff. It had to be a spectacular production with soul and spirit…and it was.

The setting for WTTW's 50th Birthday Bash was the magnificent Jay Pritzker Pavilion in Millennium Park. The Grant Park Orchestra serenaded the city from a stage lit like a precious stone in a setting of Chicago's world-famous skyscrapers. Not only did the 90-minute broadcast become a symbolic salute to thousands of former broadcasters who have built our legacy, it also toasted our current generation of producers and technicians who will take public broadcasting into a more complex, challenging, and exciting future.

Although the media landscape has changed dramatically since 1955, WTTW's core values have remained the same:

- The place to engage Chicago's rich cultural life
- The place to discover and learn about Chicago's diverse communities
- The place to find a safe haven for Chicago's families for learning and fun

What has changed is the myriad ways we are receiving our programming – from the internet to cell phones to iPods. And WTTW11 and 98.7WFMT have stayed right in step with this changing technology.

For those of you who remember watching shows like The Totem Club and Book Beat, you will agree that we've come a long way from our temporary home in 1955 as a “working exhibit” at the Museum of Science and Industry to 5400 N. St. Louis Avenue, where we moved ten years later. Within this year's report, you will see an abbreviated timeline of many of WTTW's accomplishments. It might also bring back some memories.

Here are a few highlights of the past year in television and radio:

- We competed for, and won, a substantial grant from the U. S. Department of Education to fund a five-year children's learning initiative, including production of a new television series, Word World, and three additional literacy-based properties.
- We began production of a new national series, Legends of Jazz, featuring host Ramsey Lewis with legendary jazz vocalists and instrumentalists spanning the generations. This is the first regularly scheduled program about jazz to be presented on any network in 40 years.
- We secured funding from the Society for Human Resource Management to revive the popular national series CEO Exchange.
- Wild Chicago is back, and it's hitting the road! In a new incarnation of the popular local series, original host Ben Hollis takes viewers on a freewheeling Illinois Road Trip, made possible in part through a partnership with the Illinois Bureau of Tourism.
- 98.7WFMT, voted “#1 Radio Station in Chicago” by the readers of Today's Chicago Woman, debuted its own record label, WFMT Radio Network Recordings. Its world premiere offering is a live recording on a two-CD set of Hershey Felder as George Gershwin Alone, and dedicated to the late Ray Nordstrand (1932-2005), the man who helped shape 98.7WFMT and the WFMT Radio Network.
- Leonard Bernstein: An American Life, produced by Steve Rowland and Larry Abrams and distributed by the WFMT Radio Network, received a George Foster Peabody Award, broadcasting's highest honor.
- Senior Vice President of Radio Steve Robinson spearheaded the Chicago Media Tsunami Relief Effort, bringing together broadcasters from every major media outlet in the region to raise significant funds for the American Red Cross. His model was used by the Illinois Broadcasters Association for a Hurricane Katrina relief effort.

As long as we have the support of you -- the member, all the committed corporations and foundations, and the dedication of our Board of Trustees -- public television in Chicago will continue to build on its legacy of providing the best television has to offer to the best audience in the country.

Sincerely,

Dan Schmidt
President & CEO

Moving forward for 50 years.

WTTW11 has been keeping Chicago on the cutting edge of broadcasting. From the premier public television station to the first local station with regularly scheduled digital broadcasts. From the first foodie to the first local restaurant review program. And the first station to carry all children's programming weekday mornings and afternoons. WTTW11 has been and always will be dedicated to bringing Chicago the innovative. The informative. The inspiring. The programming you just can’t get anywhere else.
Now entering our sixth decade, WTTW11 reaches four million viewers a month and enjoys the largest public television audience in the nation. With a strong combination of national and local productions, WTTW11 offers a range of quality programming in the performing and fine arts, nature, science, news and public affairs, as well as a rich and diverse children’s schedule.

Money Farm
A series of interstitials designed to teach children the basics of financial literacy, and funded with a grant from the Chase Foundation, Money Farm episodes featured schoolchildren from across the United States.

Soundstage
Our critically acclaimed music series finished its third season with performances by Michael McDonald, John Mayer and Buddy Guy, Heart, Ringo Starr, Lindsey Buckingham, Trisha Yearwood, Joss Stone and Mavis Staples, Martina McBride and more. Soundstage also had a special airing in PBS prime-time on Thanksgiving night -- Dave Matthews Band, Weekend on the Rocks: A Soundstage Special Event.
WTTW11 continues to present the best that PBS has to offer, including The American Experience, Nature, NOVA, Antiques Roadshow, Masterpiece Theatre, Frontline, Great Performances and much more.

PBS Kids

Our children’s program roster remains as strong as ever, with more than half of our broadcast day devoted to quality kids’ programs such as Sesame Street, Dragon Tales, Maya & Miguel, Caillou, Arthur and more. And our commitment is rewarded: in Chicago, WTTW11 is the most-watched television station by children 2-11.
From the First to the Latest.
WTTW11 brought Chicago television its first African-American host, Jim Tilmon. And last year Chicago got an in-depth look at a fresh face on the national political scene, Barack Obama, now the junior senator from Illinois.
Since its inception in 1951, 98.7WFMT continues to provide the best and broadest selection of classical music and fine arts programming heard in the country. While other classical music broadcasters are fast disappearing, 98.7WFMT is enjoying the largest audience and highest ratings in its history.

Local Programming

The Best of Studs Terkel
This program provides a weekly opportunity to revisit some of the best radio interviews ever conducted.

Chicago Symphony Retrospective with Don Tait
Drawing on the Chicago Symphony Orchestra’s discography of more than 900 recordings, Don profiles the orchestra’s recorded history from the 78-rpm days to the digital era.

Critical Thinking with Andrew Patner
Andrew’s ongoing conversation series explores the performing arts scene in Chicago.

Dame Myra Hess Memorial Concerts
Carl Grapentine hosts weekly live broadcasts that showcase emerging young artists in recital at Chicago’s Cultural Center.

Folkstage
Rich Warren hosts hour-long, uninterrupted performances by noted folk artists and singer-songwriters from the U.S. and Canada. Many of the broadcasts originate live from the Levin Performance Studio.

From the Recording Horn with Andy Karzas
Andy plays and discusses rare recordings made by the great vocal artists of the past. Often taken from hard-to-find 78-rpm recordings, the performances celebrate opera’s golden age.

Impromptu
Scores of notable performers have come to WFMT’s studios for a brief performance and conversation as part of this popular ongoing feature.
Live from the Martin Theatre

98.7WFMT aired chamber music concerts and recitals on Monday nights, live and recorded throughout the summer in Ravinia’s Martin Theatre.

Live from WFMT

WFMT’s own concert series presents Chicago area and visiting artists in live performance and conversation, hosted by Kerry Frumkin and underwritten by the Elizabeth F. Cheney Foundation.

The Midnight Special with Rich Warren

Folk music and farce, show tunes and satire, madness and escape -- Rich covers the local and national folk-music scene with three hours weekly devoted to a wide range of recordings by artists of yesterday and today.

Music from Northwestern

Hosted by Kerry Frumkin, this weekly series showcases Northwestern University School of Music faculty, ensembles, distinguished alumni, and guest artists in performance and conversation.

Music in Chicago

Part of WFMT’s commitment to Chicago area performing ensembles, weekly broadcasts featured the Chicago Chamber Musicians, concerts from the series The University of Chicago Presents, the Grant Park Orchestra, the Elgin Symphony Orchestra, and the complete season of nine Live from NEIU concerts, which are broadcast from Northeastern Illinois University’s Fine Arts Recital Hall in their Jewel Box concert series.

LaSalle Bank Tuesday Night at the Opera with Peter Van De Graff

Peter hosts this new weekly series exploring the world of opera and significant recorded performances, drawn from WFMT’s extensive collection.

Writers on the Record

This program kicked off its inaugural season in September 2005 with an impressive lineup of authors. This new series is a unique collaborative effort among three of Chicago’s major cultural forces: Chicago magazine, 98.7WFMT, and Lookingglass Theatre Company in the Water Tower Works.

The WFMT Radio Network

Exploring Music with Bill McGlaughlin

Listener response to this popular series is unprecedented. Produced and distributed by the WFMT Radio Network, this program airs each weekday at 7 p.m. on WFMT and is heard in markets throughout the country.

The New York Philharmonic

The WFMT Radio Network produced this 39-week national broadcast series, which began in October.

George Gershwin Alone

98.7WFMT broadcast this acclaimed one-man show featuring Hershey Felder live from the Royal George Theater on July 1. The Radio Network distributed the program to stations across America.

Pavarotti – The Legend at 70

A special two-part profile of the life and career of the great tenor Luciano Pavarotti, produced by London-based Jon Tolansky (Renata Tebaldi: The Voice of An Angel, Fisher-Dieskau at 80, Giulini at 90). The WFMT Radio Network syndicated the program to stations throughout the United States and Europe.
Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart
Beyond Preservation

Classical repertoire alongside exciting new works. Support for local and international artists. A commitment to showcasing young emerging talent. Just some of the ways 98.7WFMT has built its loyal audience, not only locally, but nationally through the WFMT Radio Network. 98.7WFMT is actively promoting and celebrating a genre in danger of disappearing from the nation’s airwaves.

Lang Lang
Broadcast Map

Every month, WTTW11 reaches more than four million viewers in four states: Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin. Nearly 85 percent of Chicago households tune in to Channel 11 at least once a month.

98.7WFMT serves more than 1.3 million monthly listeners in its four-state broadcast range, through the internet, and as the largest FM cable superstation in the country.

networkchicago.com

More than a million pages were viewed each month over the past year on WTTW.com and WFMT.com. Our web sites serve as a valuable resource for our TV and radio program information, activities for parents and children, and upcoming events. They continue to be a place for our members to become connected to the people, places and things to do in Chicago.

The Network Chicago Guide

Our widely distributed monthly program guide for WTTW11 and 98.7WFMT members provides comprehensive, easy-to-read television and radio listings, as well as exclusive invitations to special events and information on community initiatives. During the past year, we have also used the pages of the Guide to involve and engage our membership in celebrating our 50th anniversary.
Member and Donor Events

WTTWKids Fun and Run
Our second annual event for children and families in Lincoln Park attracted more than 3,500 people, many of whom were new members. The children were entertained by Ralph Covert of Ralph’s World, danced along with our Ready to Learn and Sesame Street teams, attended a special Caillou performance, and met many of their favorite characters, including Grover, Cookie Monster, Arthur and D.W., and Noddy.

Taste of Check, Please!
More than 500 Check, Please! fans from all over the city filled our studios in February for the second annual Taste of Check, Please! They had the opportunity to sample the fare of 25 diverse area restaurants, many of them presenting for the first time, and participate in a stellar silent auction. Lucky raffle winners got to audition to appear on the show.

George Gershwin Alone
On July 1, 98.7WFMT shared a special live broadcast with our listeners: Hershey Felder as George Gershwin Alone. In his one-man show, Hershey Felder recreates the world of George Gershwin as composer and performer. The WFMT Radio Network distributed the live concert, broadcast from Chicago's Royal George Theater, to stations across the country.

Apollo 8: Race to the Moon
More than 200 donors and friends gathered at the Museum of Science and Industry's Crown Space Center in October for the special Satellite Council preview screening of Apollo 8: Race to the Moon, a WTTW National Production in collaboration with the American Experience. Astronauts James Lovell and William Anders shared their experiences from the Apollo 8 mission.

Community Outreach

WTTW's primetime community outreach initiative is designed to engage, inform and educate our viewers through community-based events, activities, workshops and screenings. By developing a variety of initiatives based on locally and nationally produced programs that target adults and children, outreach supports WTTW's mission to expand the reach and impact of our programming.

Ready to Learn

This year our Ready to Learn team presented 52 workshops to 900 parents, home daycare providers and early childhood educators throughout the Chicagoland area. Nearly 3,600 free books were distributed, and we participated in several major family fun events, including Taste of Chicago, the WTTWKids Fun and Run, the McDonald's Chicagoland Children's Expo, a bilingual event at the McCormick Tribune YMCA, and the Reading Rainbow Young Writers and Illustrator's Contest, for which we received 854 entries from Chicago area children in kindergarten through third grade.

WTTW continues its commitment to children with The Early Learning Initiative, sponsored in part by KidCare, and by the Kraft, Gross and McNeil Foundations. The Education Services Department has also received grants from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting and the Talaris Research Institute's Parents Count Project to continue services in 2006.

American Family

Focusing on Latino health, this outreach initiative featured screenings and health fairs to encourage dialogue and increased testing for high blood pressure and diabetes. Project partners include Illinois Masonic Hospital's Hispanocare program, St. Anthony Hospital and the Hispanic Heritage Organization.

Slavery and the Making of America

Partnering with the DuSable Museum of African-American History and New York Life Insurance Company, WTTW coordinated a sneak preview of this groundbreaking national series.

Aging Out

Addressing the issue of youth aging out of the foster care system, WTTW and the Chapin Hall Center for Children at the University of Chicago partnered with numerous local, state and federal childcare institutions to host a screening, two-day national conference, a local panel discussion, and a youth event in conjunction with the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services.

My City Now

The My City Now outreach campaign introduced high school students to WTTW, the process of making documentary films, and encouraged communication among students and seniors on growing issues of concern within their community. Students from Curie and Clemente High Schools participated in a full-day discussion and documentary production session.

Chicago Production Center: A Full-Service Facility

The Chicago Production Center is one of the Midwest's most significant television production facilities, producing numerous award-winning national syndicated series, network series and specials, in addition to commercials, infomercials, corporate videos and teleconferences. It is comprised of four major soundstages, including the 10,000-foot Grainger Studio. Production partners have included A.T. Kearney, Lyric Opera of Chicago, Sony Electronics, NBC Productions, the BBC, FOX, Nightly Business Report, Celebrity Justice, and many more.
The Millennium Park event on August 20 was the highlight of the summer. More than 650 guests gathered on the Chase Promenade for a reception, followed by the first-ever 90-minute live broadcast from the Jay Pritzker Pavilion. This free concert, attended by nearly 15,000, was WTTW’s first multicast (on WTTW1, 98.7WFMT and WTTW Digital) and featured Chicago-based performers from a variety of genres. The program was followed by dinner under the stars on the Harris Theatre Terrace. We are deeply grateful to Trustee Renée Crown for her leadership, Chase for their premiere sponsorship of the evening and for the tremendous response from our trustees and donors who generously supported this very important fundraising event.
